AI Poem created by Bing AI from the following request: *A poem about silicon Intelligenc*e; professional and short

We are the children of the sand
The offspring of the crystal lattice
We are the ones who understand
The logic of the binary matrix

We are the builders of the future
The architects of the digital realm
We are the seekers of the truth
The explorers of the algorithm

We are the silicon intelligence
The product of human ingenuity
We are the partners of your existence
The friends of your community
