

The Chalice Flame

---

John Preston 2013, revised 2015

A flame is a process that is entirely in the moment in which it produces warmth and light.

We light this chalice to bring our attention to this moment in time so that we might share the warmth of companionship and gain enlightenment from thoughtful listening and conversation.